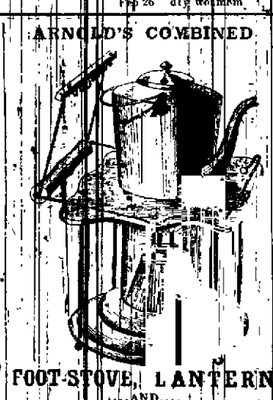
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,

—AND—

NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot County, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it opposes an excellent purpose, as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by oil, Alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be overset, or get out, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, while giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c., it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heated in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put may be readily conceived by every one. To further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can discover at once for themselves.

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS CONNECTED WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St.,

BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, whereby, on application, he will be remitted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS, (instead of $100 as charged by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the fee withdrawal, through him, within thirty days after the rejection

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unequalled elsewhere. The fees are measurably superior to those charged elsewhere. The principals below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND HONESTY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, besides his extensive library of legal, mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, readily accessible to him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers to the procural of Patents, prepared, Drawings necessary to countries, prepared, legal and scientific opinions, and advice rendered on matters, and infringement of patents, a journey to Washington, and the usual great delay of patents, thereby saved to inventors.

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of the Patent Office as Solicitor. There few, if any, persons who had so much business before the office who conducted it with more ease. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most able and efficient Patent Solicitors I have no hesitation in recommending to anyone who wishes to employ a person more competent than himself to procure for them an early and favorable decision at the Patent Office.

Late Commissioner."

[From the press of the Union, Washington, D. C.]

"AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, Mr. R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, and is well acquainted with the law and the rules of practice. He is one of the most reliable and efficient practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

GREAT REDUCTION TO CLUBS!

ENCOURAGED by the very liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon the JOURNAL, and in accordance with the spirit of the present age, the proprietor has decided to reduce the price of the Weekly Journal to Clubs, to the following rates:

One copy, one year.....$2,00
Two copies, one address.....3,00
Five copies, one year to one address.....6,00
Ten copies, one year, to one address.....10,00

PAYMENT TO BE MADE

INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

At the expiration of the time for which advance Payment has been received, the paper will in all cases be stopped. By the adoption of this cash system, the employment of agents to collect subscriptions will be unnecessary, and their expenses will be saved to the subscriber.

THE BOSTON JOURNAL

has for many years contended stood at the head of the newspaper press of New England. This position was attained not through any special effort on the part of the publishers to increase the circulation by agents or other of the usual means, but because it has proved to be such a paper as every moral, intelligent man in the community ought to introduce into his family circle—to be read by his children, and from which he might draw for them both instruction and entertainment. With such a character it has earned the position it occupies, and the fact that its circulation is much larger than any other paper of its class in New England, is the clearest proof of the estimation in which it is held by the reading community.

It is our purpose now to greatly extend the circulation of the Weekly Journal. Preparatory to doing this, we have procured

New and Beautiful Type, with which to print it, and have also ordered one of

Hoe's Six Cylinder Fast Presses,

with which we can print FIFTEEN THOUSAND COPIES AN HOUR. This press will enable us to hold back our forms to a very late hour for important news, and yet to work off the edition in season for the mails. With this improvement in our printing department, we believe we can give our readers as handsome a paper as is printed in New England. The general character of the paper has proved so acceptable that we shall attempt no change, but will be, emphatically

A Family Newspaper.

We intend that it shall be a complete record of the events of the day, so that the attentive and careful reader of its pages shall be able to gather from them accurate and reliable information of every event of interest in politics, the arts and sciences, morals and religion, in this country and in foreign lands; and that they shall have this information in a cheaper and better way than they can obtain it from any other source. To collate this intelligence from the thousand different sources where it is to be sought, to separate the wheat from the chaff, and to arrange and present it to the reader in a concise and intelligible form, is a work requiring not only a great expenditure of money, but also years of experience. We have the services of MEN EDUCATED FOR THE BUSINESS, to prepare the matter for the JOURNAL, and we shall spare no expense to enable them to do their work in the most thorough manner.

The COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT of the JOURNAL is second to that of no other weekly paper in New England. It embraces a carefully corrected PRICE CURRENT, a REVIEW OF THE MARKET for the week, stating the amount of business in the different articles of merchandise and the variation in prices, a separate article on the MONEY MARKET, original reports of the Brighton and Cambridge CATTLE MARKETS, the NEW YORK CATTLE MARKET, SHIP NEWS, &c. These reports are all prepared by men of large experience, thoroughly conversant with the department under their charge, and they are now relied upon by thousands of merchants and traders throughout the country, to guide them in their purchases and sales.

The LITERARY DEPARTMENT will embrace reviews and extracts from advance copies of the works issued by the leading publishing houses throughout the country. In this way the readers of the JOURNAL get the cream of the Literature of the country, and are enabled to select from the flood of new books issued such as they may desire for their centre table or the shelves of their libraries.

In the MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT we shall make provision for the entertainment and instruction of our young friends—the children. A good story—that shall at once improve the mind and heart, while it furnishes entertainment for the passing hour, will be a prominent feature in this department.

THE BOSTON DAILY JOURNAL

(Morning or evening edition, as may be desired,) is sent to subscribers in any part of the United States, for SIX DOLLARS a year. By means of Five Presses we are able to keep the forms for the DAILY JOURNAL open several hours later than any other daily paper, and thus not unfrequently to publish important news from TWELVE to TWENTY-FOUR HOURS IN ADVANCE. The average circulation of the DAILY JOURNAL is more than double that of any subscription or two cent paper published in Boston.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY JOURNAL;

containing all the reading matter of the Daily—is published TUESDAY and FRIDAY mornings, at FOUR DOLLARS a year is printed on the 4th and 19th of each month, for mailing by the steamers of the 5th and 20th. It is made up with the greatest care for the information of New England men in California. Over TWELVE THOUSAND COPIES a month are now sent there, which is much larger circulation than any other paper printed in the Atlantic States has. It is mailed at this office for SIX CENTS a copy. A person sending one dollar can have one each of sixteen numbers sent to any one they may desire.

BOSTON JOURNAL FOR CALIFORNIA

Agents and Newsmen supplied with either Edition of the JOURNAL on the most liberal terms.

Orders for either edition of the JOURNAL must be invariably accompanied by the CASH, and should be addressed to

CHARLES G. ROGERS,
12 State Street, Boston.

Boston, December, 1855

To newspapers that may copy this prospectus, with an editorial reference directing attention to it, and send a copy marked to this office, we will send the Daily Journal for one year.

Constitutional Amendments.

Tenure of Offices,—and the present Incumbents.

It was contended in a former article, that the amendments of the Constitution took effect from the time the votes were counted by the Governor and Council, and a majority ascertained by them to be in favor of said amendments, and a return thereof made to the Legislature, and that their records are to determine whether the constitution is amended, without regard to the action of the Legislature.

If this position be correct, the tenure of all the offices, to which the amendments relate is instantly affected by them.

The tenure of the offices of Sheriff and Register of Probate is affected immediately by the change of constitution, and a change in the tenure of Judges of Probate and Municipal and Police Courts provided for. The tenure of the office of Sheriff was at the time of the adoption of the amendments for four years, unless before the expiration of that time he was removed by the Governor and Council. This tenure was fixed by law, and appears on the 78 page of the Revised Statutes, and all commissions were issued according to said law.

He was liable to removal in three ways, first by the Governor and Council, who could do it at their discretion, by the law before named, second, by impeachment, and third, by the Governor and Council, on address of the two houses, as provided in the 6th section of the 9th article of General Provisions. The tenure of this office is changed in two ways, first, the term of four years is abridged. He next after one is elected under the amended constitution, and secondly, an incumbent is liable to be removed only by impeachment, and by the Governor and Council on address of the two houses. And the tenure of this office undergoes another change, when the elected Sheriff, enters upon the duties of his office for two years, determined and fixed by the constitution, and liable to removal by impeachment, and on address of the two houses. The tenure of this office is as certainly free from the habitude of its incumbent to removal by the Governor and Council without the address of the two houses, as its term of four years is certain to be abridged to the time when an elected one enters upon his duties. The amendments determine both.

The power of the Governor to appoint by and with the consent of Council, being stricken from the constitution, he has no more power to appoint now than he will have, after those have entered upon the duties of their office who shall have been elected according to the provisions of the amended constitution. The result from the restriction upon the Governor and Council in making appointments.

To determine whether the Governor and Council has still a right to make removals of Sheriffs and Registers of Probate by appointing one to displace another who was in office at the time the amendments took effect, it will be necessary to take a look at the object of the people in making the change in the constitution. It is apparent on the face of the constitution as it stood before the last amendments and the change which has been made by them, that the people intended to take from the Governor and Council the appointment of all the officers to whom these amendments relate, and to give the selection of them to the people of the Counties and cities in which they are to act. It was the inauguration of a new system of selecting and appointing these officers, and the abolition of the old one.

Many abuses had been practiced by the appointing power in years past, and for the purpose of taking the power from the hands of the few, and giving into the many, the people have overthrown a system of partiality and favoritism, and established one on a broader basis of intelligence and fairness. If in the amendments in their constitutions, they have failed to put an end to the abuses of the appointing power and given the choice of these offices to the people it was not because they failed in their will and intention so to do, but because the instruments themselves did not express their will. But it will be seen that the amendments restrict all power over the appointments of these officers to the filling of vacancies. What kind of vacancies were intended by the amendments? Are they those named in the 7th section of the 6th article of the amended constitution, or are they not only these, but also those made by the Governor and Council by the displacing one by the appointment of another to his stead? The provision is, that "vacancies occurring in said offices, by death, resignation, or otherwise," may be filled by the Governor with the advice and consent of Council. The designation of the vacancies intended to be filled by the Governor and Council were those occasioned by death, resignation, and those made by impeachment, and by the Governor and Council on the address of the two houses and those which may happen from any unforeseen causes, or from contingencies which could not be foreseen and provided for. "To occur" means to happen, or come about, and a vacancy, which may "occur," is one which happens without any certain knowledge as to the time when, or the cause why, it happens. The framers of the amendments provide by an election to fill the vacancies which are to occur regularly, in administering the constitution—and it was only those which occur by some cause or event unknown at the time of making the amendments which were intended to be filled by the Governor and Council.

To say that the word otherwise authorizes the Governor and Council to make a vacancy, and then fill it, is simply absurd. They can fill vacancies that have already occurred, and have as much power to appoint and displace one who holds his office by an election from the people, as one now in, by an appointment made prior to the change.

To claim a power by the Governor and Council, over the officers, as based upon the constitution is not amenable to a test the present incumbents, but prospective in its operations, and the power of appointment is stricken out, it may still be asserted as though it were.

This is a fruitful idea. With just as much propriety could it be said, that the constitution, which it was for a long time enjoyed by the people, and the State government organized and in operation, prospectively as to all officers provided for, but not appointed.

Certain offices were created by the constitution, and were in existence as when filled by its provisions. The amended constitution, as soon as adopted, affects instantly the tenure of all the offices to which the amendments relate as much as ever will. The change cannot be felt at once, but in regular law direction, as in the cases when the offices are filled, and the power of the Governor and Council over the terms was as much limited as it ever can be by lapse of time.

If the opposition is prospective, and the present incumbents are not to be protected by the amended constitution, from removal, when then, should their term of four years be abridged by it one, or two? The term of the sheriff's office was four years. The amendments are prospective in their force and operation, then no change of tenure can take place until the four years have expired. This is not the true construction. They go into full force at once, and affect all to which they relate instantly, and the change, which they are to make commences the moment they take effect, and will be completed as time advances.

The amendments, not being wholly prospective in their operations, but only prospective as to new tenure of office, but adopt the existing one, with such limitations as their provisions require, and this tenure will be required to yield to further changes as they go into full operation. They displace no officers by their instant force and effect, but protect them from removal by the power that appointed them, and render them liable to removal, only by impeachments or address of the two Houses, or having their places supplied by an election of the people.

The law in chap. 9th, page 76 of the Revised Statutes, which defined the tenure of civil officers must yield to the organic law of the State, and such of its provisions as are inconsistent with the amended constitution are void.

The resumption of power in the commissions of Sheriffs, which have been made, therein, in conformity with the law is inoperative, since the law has become void, and the power to exert is removed from the constitution. It was early passed to define the tenure of all the offices, and authorize the Governor and Council in the exercise of the general appointing power, to remove at discretion all officers by them appointed.

The power to appoint certain officers being stricken from the constitution, it can not be argued on it the power of removal at discretion remains. The power of removal has been claimed to be incidental to the power to appoint. This doctrine has been held necessary by those exercising under the general Government, and has been always claimed as belonging to the general power to appoint.

No one has contended that the executive has power to remove unless to appoint instead. What, therefore, there is no right to appoint, there can be none to remove. The person removed at discretion, can be daguerreotyped, the general power to appoint, with the same license, they must fall together.

There is no reason to contend that the amendments are prospective in their operation. Their force is instant, while their effect may, in part, be prospective. One portion of the amendments, if uniform, will have immediate effect upon the tenure of office, and be incumbent, while others, though in force, do not come into operation until a lapse of time and the action of the people under them.

But this consideration no valid reason why such as may operate from the time they are declared on them, should be suspended but all put into operation. This view is practical, nor does it prevail or can it prevail to establish'g new government; and it is right, in amending an old one.

In giving a construction to [illegible] reading the whole section, and [illegible] what was the intention of the [illegible] intend to reform their government [illegible] they measures of reform? Much [illegible] construction should be given to [illegible] object, without useless delay [illegible] sion will harmonize well with [illegible] powers and parts of the constitution. [illegible] different construction suspends some [illegible] portant parts of the amendments, [illegible] that body may be turned a fish [illegible] of the constitution, prevents no [illegible] this view of the effect of the change [illegible] provides that "the tenure of all offices [illegible] provided for, shall be during the pleasure of the Governor and Council."

The tenure of all offices are now provided for by law. And the tenure of all offices to which these amendments relate are provided for by law and the provisions in the amendments themselves. They adopt the mode which existed at the time they took effect, and limited the time to conform to their provisions. Let this section do not a stumbling block to some, and a rock of offence to others.

If the foregoing positions be correct, the following conclusions may be drawn:

1st. The amendments become a part of the constitution, when it was ascertained that a majority of the votes given in by the people were in favor of them by the Governor and Council, and a return thereof made to the Legislature.

2d. That they created no new tenure of office, but adopted the old ones, and provided for a change in them.

3d. That the incumbents in these offices are protected from removal at the discretion of the Governor and Council, and must abide the changes provided in the amended constitution.

Fire in Hebron.—About four o'clock, yesterday morning, a fire broke out in Ames' saw mill, which was entirely destroyed, together with about sixteen M shingles and some other property. The mill was a water and steam one, and the fire was first discovered in the part most remote from the steam works. The mill was owned by Mr Irving Ames, and was not insured. The steam works had been put into the mill within a few weeks. Loss about $3,000. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Nominations by the Governor.—We understand that the Governor yesterday nominated John R Wilson, Esq., of this city, for Sheriff of Penobscot, and H P Haynes for Register of Probate, Mr Gurney having declined to accept.

California News.—In addition to the despatch by the arrival of the Northern Light at New York we find the following items of interest:—

"The Fourth District Court, before which the affairs of Adams & Co. will be taken, and where A. A. Cohen was appointed, received, has revoked his appointment and appointed H M Naglee. Mr. Cohen, receiver, and Palmer, Cook & Co., with whom the assets were deposited, refuse to surrendered the assets, and allege as their excuse that they have been garnished by various creditors of Adams & Co. After the refusal of Cohen and Jones (the latter of the firm of Palmer, Cook & Co.) to surrender the assets, Judge Hager ordered them to jail for contempt. They were finally taken by habeas corpus before the Supreme Court.

New York Morals.

"You are quite right, Sir, quite right, we here in New York are sadly governed" said a genteel looking young man to a country merchant with whom he was conversing in the reading-room of a hotel the other day. "No wonder, sir, (he continued,) that you gentlemen from the interior, should be surprised and speak with surprise on the subject. But how think you must we feel, who have to pay the burden of such a government? Look at our police system. 'Tis rotten, sir,—rot en to the core. Big thieves fill our big offices, and steal largely, but in a respectable way. These are bad enough, but one of the greatest grips is the abundance of small thieves and pickpockets who ply their profession with almost perfect impunity. If they are scarcely ever arrested, and, if so unfortunate as to be so, they can always find it easy to escape and evade the law in some way. Why, sir, you have no idea of the number of professional thieves in this city. I venture to say, (and I speak knowingly,) that they can be numbered by thousands. They are shrewd fellows, and it takes a shrewd eye to recognize them. Many of them dress in the height of fashion, wear heavy gold chains attached to their costly watches, (here the speaker took hold of a heavy gold chain and examined his costly watch) and look and have the air of gentlemen. Why, sir, you might actually speak with one, exchange courtesies with him, and not know it. All, sir, is really more surprising to one that is not posted, but more surprising than all that the citizens do not rise indignantly and insist on reform by ousting from office the thieves that fill them, and disbanding a police who are in league with thieves and pickpockets, instead of performing the duties for which they are so well paid.—Something must be done, or, if not, we will lose our trade. Country merchants will forsake us, from very fear. Why sir, 'tis but yesterday that a merchant from the west was robbed of a large sum of money, while sitting quietly in his hotel, and was compelled to borrow funds from a friend to pay his way home. It is really awful, sir, and I assure you that I, as well as all good citizens, regret the existence of such a state of things. Good night, sir, good night, I always keep early hours, as I have to be in my office at 6.

Country Merchant (to a member of the Press) A nice young man, very nice young man. Do you know his name, sir?

Member of the Press (quietly)—Usually do not, sir, he has so many.

Country Merchant (astonished)—So many names, sir, what do you mean?

Member of the Press (provokingly)—I mean sir, that that very nice young man is a notorious pickpocket.

Country Merchant—Good Gracious! (Feels his pockets—terribly excited—face gets red—jumps up frantically—and swears.) By ——, my money's gone—and watch, too! Where's the police? (Disappears bare-headed, shouting for the police!)

Member of the Press calmly takes out his note book, puts down some facts and hurries to the office with a fresh item.—N Y Times

The Works of Noah Webster. It is supposed that with the exception of the Bible, the lexicographic works of Noah Webster have the largest circulation of any books in the English language. Nearly twelve hundred thousand copies of Webster's Spelling Book were sold by one firm in this city last year, and it is estimated that more than ten times as many are sold of Webster's Dictionaries as of any other series in this country. Four-fifths of all the school books published in the United States are said to owe Webster as their standard. The State of New York has placed 10,000 copies of Webster's Unabridged in as many of her public schools. Massachusetts has, in like manner, supplied 3,248 of her schools, and Wisconsin and New Jersey have provided for all their schools.—N. Y Commercial Advertiser.

A Fearful Fall. Yesterday afternoon, Mr. C P Taylor got upon the roof of the four story house No 12 Morton place, and proceeded to clear the ice from the gutter. Just as he had completed his work, and had started to clamber up the roof to the scuttle, a heavy body of snow commenced sliding from the roof, and despite Mr. Taylor's exertions, carried him with it over the eaves, a distance of about forty feet, to the side-walk, and, wonderful to relate, he escaped without the slightest injury.—Boston Journal.

Light.

The following exquisite poem, by William Pitt Pammer, was some years ago pronounced by one of the most eminent European critics to be the finest production of the same length in our language:

From the quickened womb of the primal gloom
The sun rolled black and bare,
Till I sewed him a vest for his flaming breast
Of the threads of my golden hair;
And when the broad tent of the firmament
Arose on its airy spars,
I pencilled the hue of its matchless blue,
And spangled it round with stars.

I painted the flowers of the Eden bowers,
And their leaves of living green,
And mine were the eyes in the sinless eyes
Of Eden's virgin queen;
And when the world's art on the trustful heart
Had fastened its mortal spell
In the silvery sphere of the first born tear,
To the trembling earth I fell.

When the waves that burst o'er a world accursed,
Their work of wrath had spent,
And the Ark's lone Yaw I fixed and true,
Came forth among the dead,
With the wound fresh gleams of my bridal beams,
I bade their terrors cease,
And I wrote on the roll of the storm's dark scroll,
God's covenant of peace.

Like a pall at rest on a homeless breast,
Night's funeral shadow slept—
When the shepherd swains to the Bethlehem plains
Their lonely vigils kept—
When I flashed on their sight the heralds bright
Of Heaven's redeeming plan
As they chanted the morn of a Saviour born—
Joy, joy to the outcast man.

Bend, ever I show to the lofty and low,
On the just and unjust I descend,
Ever I bid whose vain spheres roll in darkness and
Ever I bid the light from her chosen flowers,
And lead the young day to her arms
And when the gay revel seeks Eve for his level,
And smile to her balmy repose,
I drop the warm veil by the Zephyr fanned sweet,
In curtains of amber and rose.

From my sentinel steep by the night-brooded deep,
Crowned with unlumbering eye,
When the cynosure star of the mariner
Is blotted from out the sky,
And guided by me through the merciless sea,
Though aped by the hurricane's wings,
The companion ones of the love wellering lark
To the haven home safely he brings.

I waken the flowers in their dew sprangled bowers,
The birds in their chambers of green,
And mountains and plain glow with beauty again,
As they bask in their maternal sheen.
Gay, thoughtless world, with my presence to earth,
Though flitting and fleeting the while
What matter must rest on the home of the blest,
Ever bright with the Deity's smile.

A White Mother for Sale.

From Patterson's "Inside View of Slavery"

Mr C, a dry goods merchant of Boston, was with me at the little city of M, where he went to visit a partner in trade. He had not been in a Slave State before, and was bitterly opposed to emancipation. Two merchants—slaveholders—had been in our company on the way to that city. Whenever slavery was talked of Mr C uniformly concurred with them. The next morning after we arrived we saw a handbill in the bar-room, in which four female slaves were advertised for sale. Stepping out into the street, we found these girls sitting on the side-walk. At the further end of the row was a very beautiful girl, apparently perfectly white, and neatly dressed. The moment Mr. C discovered her, he exclaimed, "What do you think that white girl is sitting there with those negroes for?"

"I presume she is a slave, sir," said I.

"That can't be!" replied Mr. C, "just look at her! Why, I never saw a prettier girl in my life."

Now Mr C had heard that likely quadroons are held as slaves and sold in the market, but he had never believed that a young lady, so entirely American, so elegant in form and feature, so intellectual in appearance, with pure blue eyes, and the perfect red and white Caucasian complexion, was in the same degraded condition as the African girl. And his fine sensibilities were greatly shocked at the idea that a white girl, so beautiful, was doomed to such disgrace. His heart was steeled against sympathy for the blacks, but it was unshielded on the side towards the white race, to which his mother, wife and daughter belonged. Hence he was unprepared to believe it when I said to him, "She is a slave, sir."

There was the precise number, including her, advertised in the bill. Still incredulous, Mr C stepped up to the drover and asked, "Is that white girl a slave, sir?"

"That's not a white girl, she's a nigger, sir," replied the drover.

Mr. C. bit his lips with suppressed indignation, paused, and then ejaculated, "Is it possible?"

"Does she belong to you?" said he to the drover.

"Yes sir," replied the drover.

"What do you ask for her?" inquired Mr C.

"I was offered $1,800 for her last night.—I want $2,000 for her."

"What do you ask for that one?" said Mr C, pointing to a light quadroon sitting next to the white girl.

"I will take $1,500 for her."

"Well, how much for the black ones here at the end of the row?"

"I will take eight hundred apiece," replied the slave dealer.

"Why can that white girl—"

"That isn't a white girl, that's a nigger, sir, I tell you," interrupted the drover contemptuously. At the same time he removed a woolen cap from her head, which exposed the light brown hair, and added, "You see her hair is waved."

This is regarded as evidence that African blood is mingled with the white. Mr. C. had now become excited, and he exclaimed—"Well, then, can that white nigger do more work than one of your black niggers, that you ask so much more for her?"

"Oh, no," replied the drover, and perceiving that Mr C. did not comprehend the superior value of female beauty, to physical ability in a slave, he added—"but you know that she is a high priced fancy girl."

"By Heavens!" vociferated Mr. C., "'tis too bad!" and turning to me, with clenched hands raised towards the heavens, he added, "I will never say another word against the Abolitionists so long as God lets me live!"

Legislature of Maine.

Saturday, Jan 12.

Senate. Mr Barnes, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill, "An act additional concerning the Supreme Judicial Court and its jurisdiction," with the recommendation that it should pass. The bill proposes to obviate the necessity of filing specifications, where the parties agree to proceed to trial without them.—Passed to be engrossed.

Mr. Butler, from the Committee on the accounts of the Commissioner of the Treasury, to whom was yesterday recommitted their report, reported anew in regard to the disposition made of interest accruing on the funds of the State. The Committee report that the Commissioner had told them that in one or two instances, such interest had been received by him, and not credited to the State. The Committee state further, that in this respect, the course of Mr Sanborn is, as they have good reason to believe, precisely that pursued by his predecessors in the Treasury department for some years past.

Mr. Barnes thought it a little singular that the Committee had not given the instances in which interest had been so received. He desired to know something more specific in regard to the matter.

Mr Farley remarked, that he thought his friend from Cumberland was a little captious about the subject. The Treasurer's Report was referred to the Joint Select Committee without instructions. Usually the duty of such a Committee is to see if the Treasurer's accounts are correct, and properly vouched. At the first and second meeting of the Committee, a majority of its members doubted whether it was expedient for them to go into an investigation of the matter of interest paid on monies belonging to the State. The fact, however, was readily communicated by the Commissioner, that he had received interest on deposits in one or two instances, without crediting it to the State.—The Committee are quite well satisfied that the practice has prevailed for some years past—considering the interest on deposits a perquisite of office belonging to the Treasurer.

The Legislature can take such action as it may think necessary to prevent the continuance of this practice in the future.

On no sound principle can the Treasurer of State claim the benefit of interest on deposits belonging to the State. It he can take it on a deposit of ten thousand dollars, for a longer or a shorter time, he can, with equal propriety take it on a million dollars surrounded the State happen to have so large an amount on hand—if desire it, be understood, that I have no design of reflecting personally upon the present Commissioner. He and some of his predecessors have unapprehended their rights and duties.

If the salary of the Treasurer is insufficient, let it be raised to an amount which will amply compensate him for his services, and save the Treasury from the risks necessarily incident to the practice which the Committee has found to exist.

Messrs J B Hall, James Bell, and Joseph Baker, the Commissioners appointed, under Resolves of the Legislature, approved March 12, 1855, for the purpose of revising the public laws of this State, made report, which, on motion of Mr. Harden, was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

The annexed Statement of Prof. A. A. HAYES M D, State Assayer, is ample testimony of the scientific manner in which this medicine is compounded, and recommends it to Professional Men, as worthy a fair trial in their practice.

An opinion having been asked for of me, in consequence of the formula for preparing Oxygenated Bitters being known to me I express the following, in brief:

The components of these Bitters includes those medicinal substances which experienced physicians have long resorted to for special acts in relieving such deranged systems, Dyspepsia, Ague and General Debility, resulting from exposure or climate influence.

These are rendered permanent and remain active by this preparation in a consequence of the scientific manner in which they are combined.

It were a well founded inference, that the preparations used in larger or smaller doses, would prove a valuable General Medicine, which experience has demonstrated.

In this medicine no mineral salts can be found by the most delicate chemical trials.—A. A. HAYES M D, Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

Read the following tribute to WISTAR'S BALSAM from the Kinderhook (N Y) Sentinel, dated July 3

"Hope Never Dies."

A remarkable cure of Consumption has recently been effected by this medicine in the town of Chatham in the county, and which was related to us by Dr Herrick, an eminent physician of that town, to whom we have per mission to refer. A young lady who had long labored under disease in the lungs was considered by her friends as beyond the reach of medicine, and she was informed by her medical attendants that she must die. She was induced to send for a bottle of

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

as a last resort. The young lady experienced great relief after two more bottles had been administered, and ultimately she is now happy in the restoration of health.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP

AMERICA,

AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, Jan 16, 1856.

The steamship America from Liverpool about half past eight o'clock A M, on Saturday, the 5 h of January arrived at Halifax at 7 o'clock, P M, to-day.

The Atlantic sailed from Liverpool, on Saturday the 29th ult A slight injury happened to her cylinders, and the put into Cork to repair, and was delayed there, by dense fog for three days or till Wednesday morning, the 2d instant, from thence she sailed at 9 o'clock.

Owing to the holidays, there was no later news to telegraph to Cork concerning the Liverpool market.

There is nothing new of an official character with respect to the peace negotiations, but there is evidently indications usually well informed, a growing impression that negotiations will not terminate in a satisfactory manner

Count Nesselrode has addressed a circular note to the Representatives of Russia at the chief foreign courts, dated at Petersburg, Dec. 29th In this note it is stated that Russia accepts the third point, relative to the neutralization of the Black Sea, in the following sense:

That Turkey's right to close the Straits be maintained that no ships of war be admitted into the Black Sea excepting those of Russia and Turkey, that the number of ships to be so maintained be mutually arranged by Russia and Turkey and that it be ratified by direct special treaty be tween those two powers, without the interference of other nations

This interpretation the allies consider to be inadmissible

L'Nord publishes an analysis of Nesselrode's Circular, owns that the desire expressed by the Emperor of the French at a public solemnity in favor of a prompt and durable peace, was at the same time and still is the dearest wish of the Emperor Alexander.

Referring to the Vienna Conferences, circular casts upon Allies the blame of having rendered them abortive So long as enemies resolved to substantiate force for the spirit of justice and conciliation the Czar was obliged to remain silent, but as soon as he heard that his enemies were disposed to take up again the negotiations of peace on the basis of the four points he did not hesitate to come forward frankly to meet those pacific dispositions and to seek frankly a possible solution for the third point

The Russian propositions are already known

The circular concludes by saying that Russia is calm y and confidently awaits the decision of her enemies

When Austria and Western Powers agreed upon what was to be sent to St Petersburg, after not to communicate to other powers those terms were until they should have reached their destination Secrecy was kept, and Esterhazy reached St Petersburg on the and next day laid the proposition before Russian Cabinet

On the 28 th Count Buol communicated to Prince Gortschakoff, at Vienna, the terms on which the Western Powers would assent to peace, and stated that those terms were approved by Austria The terms are those already published

Russia has made known in Nesselrode's circular her willingness to treat for neutralization of the Black Sea but it is expected that she will absolutely refuse to assent to requirements Cession of Territory, to keep open Danube

By the phrase "Session of so much territory as is necessary to secure to all nations the free navigation of the Danube," is meant, the cession of that part of Bessarabia which lies between the fortress of Chotzyn on the North, the Salt Lake Sasyk on the South, and the River Pruth on the West

Three weeks from the day of delivery is the time allowed for consideration.

Notwithstanding all appearances it is strongly suspected that Austria will not take the field against Russia in the Spring unless previously assured of the active support of the German Powers

The Wesser Gazette states that an additional article touching the third point has been added to the treaty of December 2d, between Austria, France and England. It does not, however, impose on Austria the obligation of taking part in the war upon the eventual refusal of Russia to accept the third point as interpreted by Austria and the Allies

The Prussian Court is not pleased with Baron Seebach's mission to St Petersburg, and Colonel Manteuffel is sent to Dresden to demand positively to what extent Bavaria and Saxony have engaged themselves with the Western Allies. He would leave Berlin on the 30th December, proceeding also to Vienna to deliver a reply to the letter in which Austria notified Russia of the new measures taken at St Petersburg.

The German Frankfort Journal learns that Baron Seebach's mission to St Petersburg is the result of an arrangement between the courts of Munich and Saxony

From Sweden the accounts are very warlike. Commanders have received instructions marked private, to refuse leave of absence, and to have the troops in the highest state of efficiency ere spring Military and naval manufactories work incessantly, and the indications are that in accordance with the secret article of the Treaty Sweden will openly take the side of the Allies in the spring Sweden has on hand some millions of thalers of surplus revenue, which is to be devoted to equip the army and navy

The Danish government is reported to have consented to the establishment of depots of stores for the English fleet at Kiel, and the fleet is to rendezvous there in April.

Nichols afterwards sent the amount of the fine to the court. The Consul was summoned forthwith to appear and answer, but did not attend, whereon he was apprehended and committed for trial before the Supreme Court, charged with rescue of a prisoner.

Latest.

The latest telegraphic intelligence from London to Liverpool states that a Grand Council of War will be held in Paris.

The Post says, in the course of a few days the general Council of War is to be held at Paris, at which England will be represented by the Duke of Cambridge, Sir Richard Airey and Sir Harry Jones, together with Admirals Sir Edmund Lyons and Dundas The object of this Council is to collect, to interchange and to consider all possible information with respect to the war ... will not be in the province of the Council to plan campaigns or to decide in the beginning of January what is to be done in April.

The Council having deliberated fully on the important objects which will suggest themselves will communicate the result of their ... boys to their respective governments, who will decide their questions which may be raised and having decided, they will give the necessary orders to secure the objects which they may have in contemplation

Latest from Abroad.

It is expected that the reply of Count Nesselrode will be in conformity with the declarations contained in his circular note of 22d December

The papers announce the death of the Marquis of Anglesbury

The West India mail packet Tyne, which arrived at Southampton, had on board specie to the value of about three millions of dollars. It consisted principally of silver, from Mexico, and weighed nearly eighty tons

The Daily News city article of Friday evening says "The English stock market to-day exhibited renewed heaviness At one period a fresh decline of one quarter per cent was established but at the close the reduction from yesterday's final quotations did not exceed one eighth per cent Any tendency towards improvement is checked by the continued sales, people of which are attributed to the requirements of government. The prospects of the money market are also regarded with less confidence.

Pending the Czar a definitive reply some disquietude is still shown to support the market The general demand for money to day was of extraordinary active, this being the end of the month In the stock exchange however the money was rather easier at about 5 per cent on government securities At Paris to day the three per cent rentes rallied about one quarter per cent for money The final quotations for the account was slightly lower than that of yesterday There was still some enquiry to day for gold for exportation.

The improvement to day in the Exchange on Paris is attributed to the large amount of Australian and other gold lately received from that side The heavy arrivals of silver by the Tyne may have had some influence;

The corn market to-day was firmer A great portion of the numerous cargoes lately arrived have been disposed of.

The railway share market to day was dull and inactive, but was generally steady in prices and little was effected by the fluctuations of consols.

One of the most interesting changes in the weekly balance sheet of the Bank is the increase of £146,095 in the government securities held by the Bank This feature would be fully explained upon the presumption that the Bank is assisting the treasury to meet the heavy disbursements incidental to the season It will be noticed that the sum standing at the credit of government, shows an increase of almost the identical amount These arrangements between the Bank and the Chancellor of the Exchequer probably have a connection with the secretly concluded sales which are now in progress — The addition of more than half a million to the private securities, by which the item is raised to nearly twenty millions pounds, indicates a continued active demand for money These changes mainly account for the decline of half a million in the stock of unemployed notes — The falling off in the bullion is £161,020, half as much as that shown in the last return, but the movement of this item evidently continues on the adverse side, and will occasion anxiety

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation and the employment of different menstrua in successive operations to take up the extractive matters and in consequence are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskillful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations It is therefore, of the highest consideration and importance to the public and to the faculty that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and power, with the most advantages To effect this, and offer relief to all who do, I have made a number of experiments to obtain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to this end the most eligible form for their exhibition The experiments have resulted most favorably, and it is with much pleasure I now offer to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most active preparations which can be made Two table spoonfuls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of potatoes equal to the Lisbon liquid decoction, and one bottle fully equals in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction, as usually made

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The Greatest of the Age!

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula, down to a common pimple He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value all within twenty miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a morning sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face

Two to three bottles will cure the system of boils

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches in the hair

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ring worm

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism

Three to six bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of Scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure warranted when the above quantity is taken

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day as, that a common weed, growing upon the pastures and along old stone walls should cure every humor in the system yet it is now a fixed fact If you have a humor it has to start There are no ifs nor ands about it, as in the case of most other remedies It has yielded over a thousand bottles of it in the city of Boston, and knows the effects of it in every case It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts He gave it to children a year old, to old people of sixty, and has seen puny looking children whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness Some who have taken it have been costive for years and have been regulated by it Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week There is never a bad result from it—on the Contrary, when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to

No change of diet ever necessary Eat the best you can get and enough of it
